

Library Friends Plant Sale May 17

The Friends of the Cambridge Library are excited that spring is here and once again it is time for the annual Plant Sale.

The sale will be held Saturday, May 17 from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. in the lower level of the Amundson Center.

There will be a special 8 a.m. opening for Friends of the Library members.

The sale will offer plants of every kind and many garden related items and books. There will also be a Master Gardener on site to answer questions about plants and planting procedures. A silent auction of garden related items will also be held.

The Friends are in need of plants and garden items to stock the sale.

"As you prepare your gardens for summer and separate plants, think of the Plant Sale," said one Friend member.

Donations can be brought to the Amundson Center the day before the sale. Volunteers will be arranging displays and potting plants while accepting donations.

Last year hostas were a big seller, but all donations are appreciated. The Friends can sell houseplants, herbs, vegetable starters, anything that grows.

With the advent of a new library groundbreaking this spring, the Friends can use all the financial support they can find.

They also will welcome volunteers' energy and muscles for set-up or on the day of the sale.

Those who would like to help can call the library at 423-3900.
